Suppose that our neighbors to the North are attempting to keep their currency on a par with the USD. How might a large increase in US deficit expenditures (such as what we are seeing in the Obama administration) generate an increase in the Canadian governments deficit expenditures? Assume that the mobility of capital is high.